

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) Release Form

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) protects the privacy of student records by requiring prior written consent before disclosing personally identifiable information to a third party (Learn more: <https://www2.ed.gov/policy/gen/guid/fpco/ferpa/index.html>). It applies to colleges and universities that receive funding from the federal government.

Records created and maintained by the Financial Aid Office and Business Office are considered to be education records and may not be disclosed without the student's consent.

Permissions granted herein shall remain in effect for the individual(s) listed below until you, the student, explicitly rescind permissions in writing or you discontinue enrollment. Submitting a new FERPA form excluding the name of a previously listed individual does not serve as a termination of his/her permissions.

By signing this form, 1) either in person with proof of identity in the Financial Aid Office OR 2) in the presence of a Notary Public, you are giving permission to allow the Financial Aid Office and Business Office to disclose personally identifiable financial and academic information to the individual(s) listed.
